

The Petting Farm

Visiting a petting farm can make your summer fun and educational.

At a petting farm, you will see farm animals, like pigs, cows, goats, horses, and chickens. If you are lucky, you may see some newborn baby animals too! Petting farms usually have tour guides who will take you around the farm and tell you interesting facts about each animal. You may get the chance to feed, pet, or even groom some of the animals, but don't forget to wash your hands after direct contact with them. At some petting farms, farmers will show you how to milk a cow or shear a sheep. You can also enjoy a pony ride or a hayride.

Spending a day at a petting farm is a great summer experience.
