

• subject-verb agreement

A. Check the correct answers.

1. The subject of a sentence must agree with the ____ in ____ .

- ☐ A object; number
- ☐ B verb; number
- ☐ C verb; gender

2. A ____ subject takes a ____ verb.

- ☐ A singular; plural
- ☐ B plural; singular
- ☐ C plural; plural

B. Underline the verbs that do not agree with the subjects and correct them on the lines.

1. Do anyone know what physics is? _____
2. Everyone stop talking when the teacher comes in. _____
3. The members each receives a certificate after they have completed the course. _____
4. Amy is annoyed because someone keep knocking on the door. _____
5. Louis was surprised to find out that there was just a few candies left. _____
6. The boy slips and the box of marbles fall to the ground. _____

C. Rewrite the sentences by changing the singular subjects to plural and the plural subjects to singular.

1.  That butterfly is beautiful.

2. The list of participants is kept in the cabinet.

3. The children have tidied up the table after lunch.

4. There are some geese swimming in the pond.

5. Is this the book you talked about in the meeting?

6. All students are required to report to the teacher before the trip.

Circle the correct verbs for the sentences.

1. Neither the coach nor the players give / gives up.

2. The coach, as well as the players, do / does not give up.

• subject-verb agreement

A. Check the correct answers.

1. The subject of a sentence must agree with the ____ in ____ .

- ☐ A object; number
☒ B verb; number
☐ C verb; gender

2. A ____ subject takes a ____ verb.

- ☐ A singular; plural
☐ B plural; singular
☒ C plural; plural

B. Underline the verbs that do not agree with the subjects and correct them on the lines.

1. Do anyone know what physics is?

Does

2. Everyone stop talking when the teacher comes in.

stops

3. The members each receives a certificate after they have completed the course.

receive

4. Amy is annoyed because someone keep knocking on the door.

keeps

5. Louis was surprised to find out that there was just a few candies left.

were

6. The boy slips and the box of marbles fall to the ground.

falls

C. Rewrite the sentences by changing the singular subjects to plural and the plural subjects to singular.

1.  That butterfly is beautiful.

Those butterflies are beautiful.

2. The list of participants is kept in the cabinet.

The lists of participants are kept in the cabinet.

3. The children have tidied up the table after lunch.

The child has tidied up the table after lunch.

4. There are some geese swimming in the pond.

There is a goose swimming in the pond.

5. Is this the book you talked about in the meeting?

Are these the books you talked about in the meeting?

6. All students are required to report to the teacher before the trip.

Every student is required to report to the teacher before the trip.

Circle the correct verbs for the sentences.

1. Neither the coach nor the players give / gives up.

2. The coach, as well as the players, do / does not give up.