

- writing

A. Write a plan for a myth. Think of a mythic hero, a setting, and a question you will attempt to answer with your myth.

It could be an answer to a question as small as, "Why is there never any milk when I want to eat cereal?" or as big as, "How did the world begin?"

Plan

Mythic Hero

Setting

Question

B. Write the myth you planned and give it a title. Make sure you include strong descriptive language and devices such as metaphors and similes.

Title

- writing

A. Write a plan for a myth. Think of a mythic hero, a setting, and a question you will attempt to answer with your myth.

It could be an answer to a question as small as, "Why is there never any milk when I want to eat cereal?" or as big as, "How did the world begin?"

(Individual writing)

Plan

Mythic Hero

Setting

Question

B. Write the myth you planned and give it a title. Make sure you include strong descriptive language and devices such as metaphors and similes.

(Individual writing)

Title
